++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry conditions to continue but turning unsettled midweek.

Today:
A chilly start with a chance of frost but fine and dry throughout the day. Turning cloudier into the afternoon, so the best of the sunshine will be in the morning. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining dry through the evening and night with cloud breaking to give largely clear skies during the early hours. Turning cold with a risk of further frost. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Monday:
A cold start with a likelihood of frost. Dry throughout though, with morning sunshine giving way to slightly cloudier skies heading into the afternoon. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Patchy light rain on Tuesday with winds increasing overnight. Wednesday will see very strong winds developing and outbreaks of rain. Blustery showers on Thursday with a risk of hail.
